

Art Future NYC is a collective of individuals working in art and design education who are committed to expanding access and opportunities for young people from backgrounds that are underrepresented in higher education and fields of art and design. Tools, resources, information and community building are used to increase understanding of art & design career and educational opportunities.

We recognize the brilliance of communities who are historically underrepresented and underrecognized in fields of art & design (people of color, people from low-income backgrounds, first generation college students, immigrants, etc), and are committed to bridging the gap to college and fulfilling careers.

The Core Team include Joan Mitchell Foundation, Parsons Scholars Program, and Groundswell. Community Partners include Parsons Pre-College, Dedalus Foundation, Dream-Yard, Lincoln Center Education and others.
